Sweep

From a trader's idea to a web app in fully custom code.

Technology · Brand, website and web app

The client and the knot

Sweep is a free trading journal for futures traders and prop firm traders.

Traders tracked their trades, accounts and expenses across scattered tools. It needed a product that brings everything together, and a brand they would trust.

Our choices

1

Fully custom code

The brand, the website and the web app, with no template or off-the-shelf platform.

2

A trade in seconds

Logged from a screenshot or a CSV file.

3

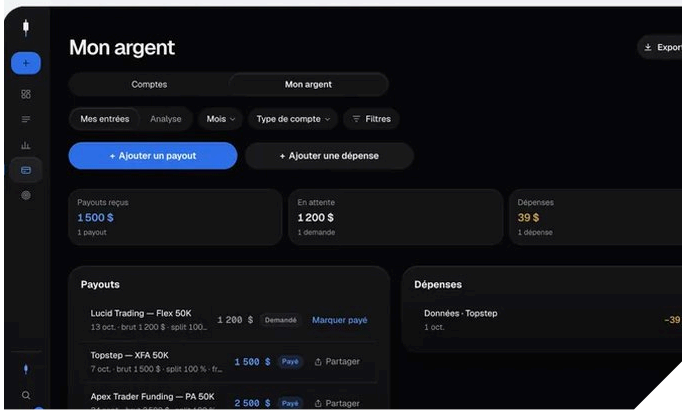

Everything in one place

Accounts, payouts, expenses and habits, and a journal you can ask questions.

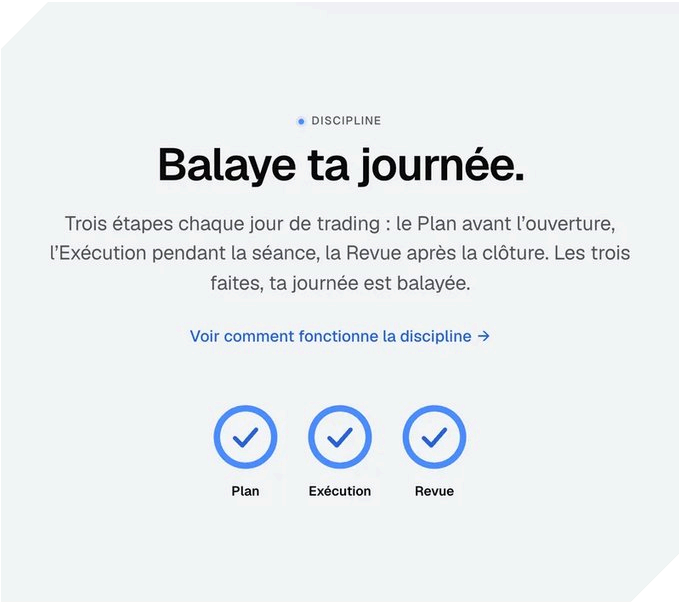

Three details

The detail: the homepage promise, in one line.

The detail: a trade logged from a screenshot.

The detail: the whole session, at a glance.
